

Help us build a home.

In November, 2007 a group of 19 Thrivent Financial employees will travel to Costa Rica to partner with Habitat for Humanity Global Village in their mission to build simple, decent affordable housing in partnership with people who need decent shelter.

Substandard housing in Costa Rica.

“I’m very proud to have given to my kids what I always dreamed of — a home. I hope other families in need go through the same experience and that they never lose their hope.”

An estimated 35% of the population in Costa Rica live in substandard housing.
